Donkey Child

It was a little girl who first saw the mysterious shape in the distance.

As the shape moved closer, she saw that it was a heavily pregnant woman.

Shy but brave, the little girl moved nearer to the woman. "We must keep her with us," the little girl's people decided. "We'll keep her and her child safe."

The donkey child and his mother have grown together and found many ways of living side by side. Slowly, all around them, other families have started to settle.

| The child was soon on its way. "Push!" "Bring blankets!" "Water!" "Puuuussssshhh!!!" | Donkey found his mother, alone and other for a long time. And then hugged esch each each other very hard. |

And so the woman found herself alone again. She wondered what to do with this awkward child. She wondered what to do with herself.

High up amongst the clouds they fell asleep. Donkey dreamed that his mother was sick and calling to him. And when he woke up...

| But finally she had to accept that he was her child and she was his mother. | One morning, the old man asked Donkey to carry him to the top of a mountain. |

Now, if the child had stayed that same, small size, everything might have been different. But the donkey child grew and grew until he could no longer fit on his mother's back. And no matter how hard he tried, he could not behave like a human being. His mother was often tired and frustrated. Sometimes she made him do work meant for animals.

Donkey went to stay with the old man, who taught him many different ways to survive. Donkey listened and learned, and so did the old man. They helped each other, and they laughed together.

Donkey was filled with shame. He started to run away as far and fast as he could.

By the time he stopped running, it was night, and Donkey was lost. "Hee haw?" he whispered to the darkness. "Hee Haw?" it echoed back. He was alone. Curling himself into a tight ball, he fell into a deep and troubled sleep.
